

Open Day

From ribbon cutting to freeing twenty white doves, our Open Day was indeed a highlight of 2012 for us. If you were there, you might have noticed the beautiful paintings by Gavin Collins which added a lovely touch to our recently renovated offices. We thought they worked really well in our space, so decided to purchase two of them. To those who were unable to join us on our open day, do not despair, you have an open invitation to pop in any time. With "revamped" energy and enthusiasm, we look forward to doing outstanding business with clients and associates.

Birthday Club celebrations

We escaped the cold and wet winter weather and held our June Birthday Club at the River Café. What a great turn-out, and always such a privilege to take time out to share special moments with our clients.

The July Birthday Club breakfast was hosted at The Vineyard Hotel, and was the biggest Birthday Club group that we have had. What an excellent spread and good company in this beautiful setting.

Visit our facebook page for more photos.

DIVORCE ... don't DIY it!

No matter how simple or amicable a divorce is, we strongly recommend that an attorney reads over your summons. The parties' intentions can often not be given effect to or achieved, particularly the transfer of immovable property. We are increasingly having to apply for orders to be varied, and this is an expensive exercise. To save distress and money, and ensure you get what you intend, talk to us, our experience counts.

Aggie has more than ten years' experience in matrimonial matters.

Dealing with what people value most - their children and their assets - is a serious matter so it's important to manage the expectation of our clients while achieving the best possible results.

Aggie Rudy

B.Proc (Unisa)

Email: arudy@pincus.co.za

Your Matter is their Priority

Without the support and dedication of these staff members our court documents would not get filed, banking not done and communication with various stake-holders would not exist. Our success is partly owed to them who have to "make it happen" outside the walls of our office. Keep it up, Winnie, Vincent and Abby!

When Oriental goes Oriental

We really love sharing special occasions with 'family' and 'friends' (staff and clients). In June Rachenda Smith and Vanessa Joshua celebrated their birthdays in oriental style. Posing here, are Kerith Chetty and Karen Napoleon, who dressed up for the theme.

Abby and her Deputies

The Pincus Matz offices transformed into the wonderful world of western cowboys for a day, when Abby Bassadien celebrated her birthday with us last month. She poses here with Les Masterson and her "deputies". We wish our June and July birthday 'gals' everything of the best for a great year ahead.

Snippets from our Inbox

Thank you for all the effort, I really enjoyed the morning. Rosemary Leibbrandt, RE/MAX Elite

Thank you for including me in the Birthday Breakfast Club, it really is a super idea and I thoroughly enjoyed myself. Many thanks also for the pictures, they are quite lovely. Maria Koen, FNB Home Loans

It is always such an honour to be included in Pincus Matz functions, and it was really special to be included in your Birthday Club. The Vineyard is such a lovely venue, and it was great meeting other Cancerians! Thank you. Carmen Brander, BranderKemp Communications

